April & May Newsletter

Meadowood Centre News

Spring is in the air, or is that snow?! Either way, spring will be here very soon! We will finally be able to spend more time outside which means wet ski pants and mittens. Please make sure to send an extra pair of mittens and also splash pants for when the weather warms up.

If you are looking for some fun and different activities to do with your children and family, here are a few options to explore (some are free!):

- Burton Cummings Theatre
- The Forks
- Museums: Transcona Museum / Children's Museum
- Oak Hammock Marsh
- Toys R Us (they have a calendar of activities for children)
- Fort Whyte Alive
- St. Andrew Heritage Museum

April 23 - 29

Week of the Early Childhood Educator

ECE Week is an important opportunity, for families and coworkers alike, to recognize the work and the contributions that educators and caregivers make in the lives of young children and their families on a daily basis. Each educator plays an important role in the lives of children within our care by providing a safe and healthy environment, planning and implementing activities that not only helps stimulate the child's development but are also planned with them in mind. Educators also recognize the importance in building relationships with each family.

We look forward to celebrating with you!

"No significant learning occurs without a significant relationship."
